Logging into Britannica

A step-by-step guide to logging into Britannica School and then the personal, My Britannica area and understanding the different purposes of the two sections.
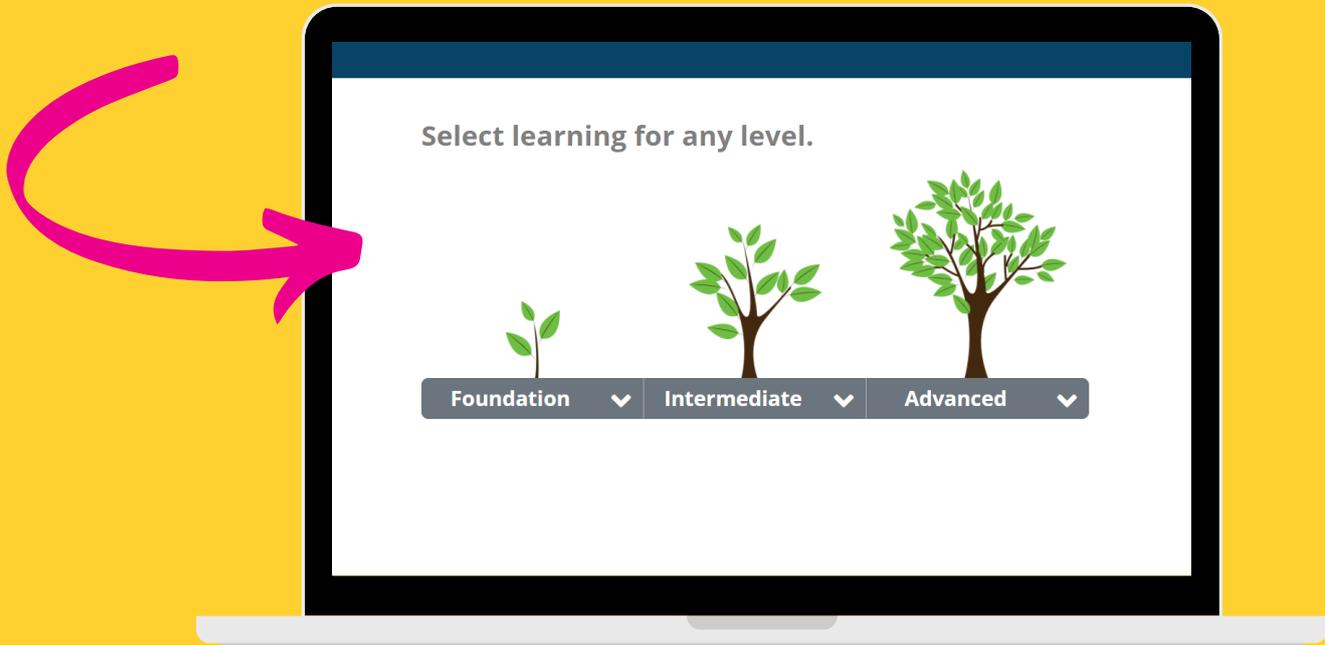

1 Logging into the Britannica School site

When you type https://school.eb.com and you get this landing page, this is where you have to enter the Access ID and Access Passcode provided to you by Britannica.

In many cases, this will be a login used by a whole institution. It gives you access to all three levels of Britannica School and you can make use of the search bar, homepage features and access all of the Britannica School content.

If you reach the following landing page, this means you have access to Britannica School already and need not enter login details.

Select learning for any level.

① Logging into the My Britannica area

The login details are not for the My Britannica space seen below. You can click on create an account, use any username and password of your choosing. This will created your own customisable space within Britannica School.

After clicking here

We would love to demo for you and your team to show how you can use this customizable space and create resource packs and lesson plans.
